QUICK RELIEF PLANNED FOR QUAKE AREA

Japanese Government Makes Large Appropriation For Aid and Rehabilitation

RICELAND INUNDATED

Tokyo, Dec. 24—(P)—The Japanese government will appropriate 1,000,000,000 yen ($66,666,667) for relief and rehabilitation of its earthquake and tidal wave stricken areas, Kyodo news agency said today.

Governors of the 10 hardest hit prefectures will meet Thursday at Osaka to discuss relief measures. The home, welfare, commerce and industry, agriculture, and communications ministers will attend.

Kyodo said the quake changed the topography in some places, chiefly near Muroto Point in central eastern Shikoku, and near Koshi. The agency said the convulsions raised the area near Muroto but the earth's surface appeared to have sunk slightly near Koshi.

Nearly 5,000 acres of rich rice land around Koshi were inundated as Saturday's powerful tidal wave smashed a levee. The waters have not entirely receded, Kyodo reported.

Although the quake still was big news elsewhere, interest slackened here. Newspapers gave the story less prominence and space.

The home minister, Seiichi Onuma, revised casualty figures downward slightly. He told the house of peers total casualties as of 11 p. m. last night were 2,318—1,081 dead, 165 missing and 1,092 injured. Earlier, he had given these figures for the same hour: 1,083 dead, 165 missing and 1,142 injured; total 2,395. He did not say how many were missing.

Onuma said 800 tons of sulphuric acid, spilled when the tidal wave smashed vats at a chemical plant in Ehime prefecture northwest of Koshi, mixed with the surging waters and added to the dangers in that area.

The U. S. army said disease was under control, but shortages of medical supplies, water and electricity was creating a health menace in Shingu. An LST, manned by Japanese, was ordered to take food, clothing and medical supplies to that city.

The greatest disease peril remained in the prostrate city of Shingu, on Wakayama's east coast, where 14,000 Japanese, whose homes collapsed in the first shock or burned in the fires that followed, huddled on the beaches in Japan's inhospitable winter.

These refugees were living on boiled creek water, while overworked Japanese doctors treated 500 hospital cases in any shelter they could find. Their hospital vanished in the fire that swept the city.

Political Battle Looms in Georgia

Atlanta, Dec. 24—(P)—Governor Ellis Arnall, political foe of the late Gov.-elect Eugene Talmadge, announced today that he would retain the office until a lieutenant governor is sworn in and then resign, relinquishing the gubernatorial office to the lieutenant governor.

The governor's statement drew the lines sharply for a bitter political fight in Georgia which is expected to be fought out in the legislative session opening Jan. 13 and in the courts, with an ultimate decision to be sought from the Supreme Court.

The lieutenant governor-elect is M. E. Thompson, Arnall's state revenue commissioner. The issue revolves around whether the legislature can elect Herman Talmadge, 33-year old son of Eugene, to the four year term to which his father was elected. The elder Talmadge died Saturday.

3,200 Lonely Orphans Are Visited By Santa Officially

Oklahoma City, Dec. 24—(P)—Oklahoma's official Santa Claus—created as a joke on an angry legislator 10 years ago—set out today in a highway department truck to bring Christmas to 3,200 orphans in state and private institutions.

The gifts for the children will be just as numerous this year as in the past, but they'll be a little smaller. The Santa Claus commission—that's the official name—is limited to an expenditure of $2 per child and, like other shoppers, found prices are higher this season.

During the session Rep. Sandy Singleton arose and angrily denounced extravagance, declaring, "we may as well establish a Santa Claus commission while we're at it."

Pope Pius's Yuletide Message Warns Europe Is Standing In Grave Danger of New Wars

Vatican City, Dec. 24—(P)—Pope Pius XII declared today, on the eve of the second Christmas since World War II ended, that Europe stood in grave danger of new conflicts.

Addressing the resident members of College of Cardinals, whose 95-year-old dean, Genaro Cardinal Granillo Pignatelli di Belmonte, had just presented their Christmas greetings, the pontiff called for an early, just and definite peace.

Otherwise, he said, the "constant agitation" of Europe's peoples, their "disillusionment and discontent" over the war's aftermath, might give rise "to the flames of new conflict."

Fair Weather With Plenty of Sunshine

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—It may be a blow to the youngsters with new sleds on their gift lists, but the weather bureau isn't promising much in the way of snow for Christmas.

Forecasting "fair weather with considerable sunshine" for most of the country tomorrow, the bureau said today there might be a few snow flurries in the northern Great Lakes region and west of there—but that's all.

As to the temperatures, the bureau said Christmas will be "rather cold" in New England westward through the Ohio valley.

May Restore Civil Rights To Objectors

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—The appointment of a three-member presidential amnesty board held out hope today to at least some of the 11,000 draft law violators of regaining such civil rights as the voting privileges.

The board, headed by former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, will review the cases of 3,700 men who have served their sentences and 1,500 still in jail. President Truman asked the members to recommend executive clemency in "deserving" cases.

Among the cases which will be reviewed are those of 800 persons claiming conscientious objections, of whom only 25 are still behind bars. Mr. Truman said conscientious objectors as a group assisted the war effort either by serving in work camps or performing non-combat service in military ranks.

Generally speaking, the only ones sent to jail were tried because the government questioned their sincerity as objectors, they declined even to enter work camps, or deserted camps after being assigned.

On the board with Roberts are James F. O'Neill, chief of police of Manchester, N. H., and Willis Smith of Raleigh, N. C., former president of the American Bar Association.

BULLETINS

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—President Truman today tentatively picked Monday, January 6 to deliver to congress his annual message on "the state of the union."

London, Dec. 24—(P)—The Moscow press and radio joined today in a Christmas eve denunciation of Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, who warned in a recent magazine article against a possible Soviet "invasion" of the United States.

Peiping, Dec. 24—(P)—Government sources declared today the Chinese National army has eliminated a Communist threat against northwest section of the Peiping-Tientsin railroad after several weeks harassment.

Warsaw, Dec. 23—(Delayed)—(P)—Count Andre Potocki, a member of one of Poland's oldest and proudest families, was sent to prison today.

Tree Lighting Will Be Broadcast Today

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—President Truman, after delivering a Christmas greeting to the nation today, will fly home to Missouri tomorrow to wish his mother a merry Christmas in person.

Ending out a series of traditional yuletide ceremonies at the White House, the chief executive planned to speak to the country over the major networks at about 5:17 p. m.

His five-minute talk will climax a tree lighting program on the south lawn of the White House, where Mr. Truman spoke last year in the first postwar resumption of the occasion.

Martin Keeps Own Counsel On Resigning

Harrisburg, Dec. 24—(P)—A high administration source said today he had "a hunch" Governor Martin will resign as chief executive before Jan. 3 and take his seat in the senate along with other new senators when Republicans take over control of congress.

The source, who declined direct attribution, emphasized, however, that the governor has yet to make up his mind on the question that has stirred speculation at the state capital for weeks.

Only the governor and Martin himself, the questioner, can answer, he said, but he kept his own counsel as the capital closed up for the Christmas holiday.

Should Martin resign, Lt. Gov. John C. Bell automatically would become chief executive to head a "caretaker" state government until the inauguration of Governor-elect James H. Duff on Jan. 21.

Mr. Martin, elected to the senate in November, has been urged by Pennsylvania's Republican delegation in congress to resign, but he has refused to do so.

The tenor of the pope's address, which lasted 34 minutes, was generally pessimistic, but he did point to some reasons for hope.

Principles needed for peace have "made real progress during the past year in not a few minds," the pontiff said.

He suggested that the atom bomb—though he did not call it by name—might also be a factor for peace.

Keep Guard After Threats At McKeesport

McKeesport, Dec. 24—(P)—City police maintained a vigil about the home of Mayor Charles A. Kinkaid through the night, in answer to anonymous threats that the mayor and his wife would be "bumped off" at 2 a. m. today.

Later, police reported that "everything was quiet" at the scene through the night.

William Kreiling, said three threatening letters received by Kinkaid's last few days have been turned over to the FBI for investigation.

Officers indicated the letters may be connected with an anti-vice drive the mayor ordered against McKeesport gamblers, which has resulted in numerous arrests of petty racketeers.

The mayor received a letter to his office Saturday which said: "Listen, wise guy, you lay off the 'numbers' now and stay off, or you and your whole family is going for it get what you aren't looking for."

On Sunday, in a Christmas mail delivery, Mrs. Kinkaid found a scrawled message threatening her life unless her husband would "take advice and get out."

The third letter was sent to The McKeesport Daily News, telling it that the mayor would be "bumped off" at 2 a. m. today.

PHILADELPHIA COP BEATEN TO DEATH

Philadelphia, Dec. 24—(P)—Patrolman Henry J. Hicks, 38-year-old father of six children, was beaten and shot to death with his own nightstick and service revolver.

Police Captain Henry De Fee said the slaying occurred a half block from the station house where Hicks had reported for duty at midnight, one hour earlier.

De Fee said Hicks, a patrolman for two years, had reported the arrest of two young men for breaking milk bottles on doorsteps and presumably was bringing them to the station house.

"AXIS SALLY" RELEASED

Frankfurt, Dec. 24—(P)—Mildred Gillars, American musician who became known as "Axis Sally" through her wartime broadcasts from Germany, has been released from a United States army prison, army officials disclosed today.

Martin Keeps Own Counsel On Resigning

Harrisburg, Dec. 24—(P)—A high administration source said today he had "a hunch" Governor Martin will resign as chief executive before Jan. 3 and take his seat in the senate along with other new senators when Republicans take over control of congress.

TREE CANDLE STARTS FIRE KILLING TWO

Philadelphia, Dec. 24—(P)—Two brothers perished and a third youth was burned critically as flames started by a Christmas candle destroyed a backyard clubhouse and damaged an adjoining apartment house slightly.

Frank McNeil, who was summoned from his work by neighbors yesterday identified the fire victims as his sons, Raymond 12, and Richard, 10. The injured boy, Robert Pierce, 7, suffered burns over his entire body.

Firemen said the candle ignited Christmas trimmings and straw in the clubhouse, spread rapidly trapping the boys after two other playmates escaped.

Oleo Dealers To Receive Licenses

Harrisburg, Dec. 24—(P)—The commonwealth will license oleomargarine dealers in Pennsylvania without cost until the amount of the license fee is fixed by the courts or the legislature.

The stop-gap policy was announced yesterday by Miles Horst, secretary of agriculture, as a result of a decision by the Dauphin county court invalidating license fees of $500 for wholesalers and $100 for retailers imposed by an act of 1901.

Horst and other state officials have yet to decide whether President Judge William M. Hargrett's decision will be appealed to the state supreme court.

Horst, emphasizing that the court left untouched other provisions of the law regulating sale of oleomargarine, said that when the courts or the legislature decides what the license fee will be, that fee then will become due and, if not paid, the temporary licenses issued without charge will become null and void.

Licenses at the usual fee will be issued to any dealer who mailed an application on or before Dec. 20, the day before the court's decision, Horst said.

FAMILY BURNED OUT

Birdsboro, Dec. 24—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. George Crosby and their eight children were made homeless—but only for a brief time by a fire that damaged their home. Shortly after the fire yesterday destroyed furniture and personal belongings, Crosby's employer, The Brooke Sand Co., provided quarters in one of its properties until the family could be rehoused.

FRANKLIN PAY HIKE

Franklin, Dec. 24—(P)—City Council announced last night it had raised salaries of firemen and policemen six percent and had set the 1947 tax rate at 13 mills, one mill higher than in 1946. Councilmen said city hourly workers also will get pay boost of six percent.

AMNESTY FOR LITTLE NAZIS IN U. S. ZONE

Approximately 800,000 Germans Granted Pardons by Commander McNarney

MAJOR POLICY CHANGE

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 24—(P)—Approximately 800,000 "little Nazis" in the American zone of occupation were granted amnesty today—the day before Christmas—by proclamation of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. commander in Europe.

By the amnesty the number of Germans in the American zone liable to prosecution under denazification laws is reduced from approximately 3,000,000 to 2,000,000.

The amnesty, the announcement said, will apply to all persons who are not chargeable under the "law of liberation from National Socialism and militarism," as major offenders, or offenders whose yearly income during the calendar years 1943 and 1946 was less than 3,000 marks and whose taxable property in 1945 did not exceed 20,000 marks.

Also exempted from prosecution are persons not major offenders or offenders who are more than 50 percent disabled.

The announcement, while coming virtually on Christmas Eve, was not regarded so much as a holiday present, but as a major change in American policy.

It appeared aimed at breaking the log-jam of multitudinous cases in denazification courts so that full attention could be directed to bringing major offenders to justice more quickly.

Approximately 11,000,000 Germans have been required to fill out denazification questionnaires and about 3,000,000 of that number have been found chargeable under the law.

Also number chargeable will be reduced to approximately 2,000,000 as a result of today's amnesty.

The general gave the news to the Germans in person by addressing a Christmas gathering of citizens in a public square of this U. S. army headquarters city. It was the first time the theater commander had appeared at such a meeting.

As was known, the United States was alone in adopting the amnesty procedure. None of the other three occupying powers had announced intentions of any similar action up to the time McNarney spoke.

Operators Of Atlanta Hotel Are Indicted

Atlanta, Dec. 24—(P)—Three operators of the Winecoff hotel which burned here December 7 with the loss of 119 lives have been indicted on charges of involuntary manslaughter.

The indictments were brought against A. G. Gee, Sr., and A. F. Gee, Jr., of Sheboygan, Wis., and E. E. O'Connell, a Chicago detective, who had leased the hotel since 1934.

One of three indictments alleges a felony and accuses the lessees of "unlawfully and without intention to do so caused J. R. Moody of Arlington, Ga., to fall to his death in an effort to escape from the Winecoff hotel during the Dec. 7 fire."

It also charges that the three "wilfully and wantonly" operated a hotel which had no outside fire escapes.

The other two indictments carried misdemeanor counts in the death of Miss Virginia Torbert of Thompson, Ga., and Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen of Des Moines, Iowa.

Fulton County Solicitor E. E. Andrews said conviction on a felony indictment of involuntary manslaughter carries a sentence of from one to three years. Conviction on a misdemeanor count, he said, would mean up to 12 months in a public works camp, 12 months in jail and a fine of $1,000.

Shortly before the indictments were returned, the grand jury heard Mr. Huguley of the national board of fire underwriters attribute the rapid spread of the flames to arson.

Druggist's Error Results In Death

Wilkes-Barre, Dec. 24—(P)—A druggist who testified he mistook the word "citrate" for "nitrite" in a doctor's prescription was found by a coroner's jury to have been "negligent in compounding the prescription, which could have contributed to the death of three-month-old Pamela Upton."

The infant's mother testified yesterday that Pamela died in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, Dec. 1 after taking a prescription filled by Robert Wilson, drug store owner.

Wilson, who voluntarily testified at the inquest called at the request of the child's parents, told the jury "I took the letter (of prescription) for 'N'."

District Attorney Leon Schwartz, upon hearing the jury's verdict, said "it is for be to decide whether to ask the county detectives to swear out a warrant for manslaughter. I depended on the jury to inform my conscience as to what would be the proper case. I will have to give the verdict further study."

Two Die On Highway

Uniontown, Dec. 24—(P)—Claude V. Groff, of Ohio, Fayette county, and Frank Turner, 60, of Ohio, were killed last night when their auto ran off the road and crashed into a parked truck on Route 40, about 18 miles from Uniontown.

Great Throng Converges On Little Town of Bethlehem

Bethlehem, Dec. 24—(P)—One of the largest throngs in its history converged in bright sunny weather today on the little town of Bethlehem to celebrate Christmas—the most joyous feast, the eve of the 1946th anniversary of the birth of Jesus Christ.

A venerable churchman was designated to leave at noon from the historic Jaffa gate site in Jerusalem—the city where Saul, David, Solomon and Herod ruled—to lead the traditional procession to this little town of the Nativity.

He was the Roman Catholic Patriarch Louis Barlassina, 75-year-old former priest of Turin and Rome who has been head of the Latin clergy in Palestine for 28 years.

Mayor Issa Effendi Bandak of Bethlehem and other notables awaited the procession at the edge of the town for an excursion through the ancient Bazaar district to the church built over the grotto where Jesus was born.

An air of festivity prevailed in Jerusalem and the political situation remained calm. There still was evidence that Palestine was one of the world's trouble spots.

At 3:30 a. m., a few Christians, Arabs, in a premature holiday celebration, fired half a dozen shots into the air in the capital within earshot of the guards near the barbed wire skirting public office buildings. The guards, remembering recurrent terrorist raids, began laying down a barrage of Bren gun fire. Armored cars wheeled up and the whole city was tense for a pre-dawn hour.

Newspaper Chains Will Be Probed By Senate Committee

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—Chairman James E. Murray, Democrat, of Montana, of the senate small business committee, said today the "rapid growth and concentration of newspaper ownership by chains and individuals" will be investigated at public hearings beginning January 7.

Senator Murray told a reporter the inquiry, which has been questioned by some senators, is "not an attempt to go into the contents of papers at all—it will not try to judge the freedom of the press."

He stated: "Our sole purpose is to try to learn the problems of the smaller independently owned newspapers of the country. The smaller papers, both daily and weekly, are having a difficult time. They face higher costs of labor and everything else from paper to machinery."

"We hope to develop what can be done by the government or by legislation to keep these small papers alive and independent."

"There is nothing political about this. As a matter of fact, most of the small newspaper owners and publishers are Republicans. We have received a big mass of letters dealing with these problems. They come from Democrats, Republicans and independents."

Because the Republicans will take control of the senate on January 3, Senator Murray said Senator S. Wherry, Republican of Nebraska, probably will preside at the three days of hearings.

The special small business committee disappears January 30 under the congressional reorganization act unless extended by the new senate. Senator Wherry wrote Senator Murray last month that he wants the group continued, but that it "should not conduct lame duck investigations."

Mr. Murray said one of the key points in the investigation will be the high cost and shortage of newsprint, a subject that has had attention from other congressional committees and government officials.

Mr. Murray declared he is much interested in possible development of newsprint production in Alaska and the northwest, including his home state of Montana.

Other subjects listed for attention by Mr. Murray are postal rates for the smaller newspapers, possible government aid in financing, and tax problems of the independent publisher.

Much of the material for the hearing will be taken from a letter sent out by Mr. Murray to more than 10,000 publishers and newspaper owners asking reports on "obstacles to free competition" under several suggested categories.

These included cost of operations, advertising available to small papers, postal and tax matters, ownership of radio stations, and "competition for small independent papers from chains and absentee owners."

Mr. Murray reported the replies indicate that "during the war the big fellows got all of the advertising of larger corporations."

New French Constitution Is In Effect

Paris, Dec. 24—(P)—France's fourth republic officially came into being today, with the nation in a perilous financial state and the entire structure of the colonial empire was threatened by the bloody Viet-Nam bid for complete independence in far-away Indochina. The historic moment when the upper house, called the council of the republic in the new constitution instead of the senate of pre-war France, convened was 3:11 p. m. From that moment the new constitution, approved by the people in October, became effective. Constitutional government in France had been wiped out in May, 1940, by the advancing Germans.

Paris, Dec. 24—(P)—France's fourth republic officially comes into being today, with the nation in a perilous financial state and the entire shaky structure of her colonial empire threatened by the bloody Viet-Nam bid for complete independence in Indochina.

The new French constitution becomes legally effective this afternoon at the moment when parliament's upper house meets for the first time—six and a half years after the senate of the third republic held its last session on May 21, 1940.

The council of the republic, which replaces the senate in the new French legislative system, will meet under the presidency of Dr. Jules Gueslery, a radical Socialist who gets the honor by virtue of seniority. He is 81.

The council is scheduled to join with the national assembly Jan. 16 to elect a president of the republic as France moves toward the end of her war-necessitated political reconstruction by the establishment of a permanent government.

The national assembly, or lower house, was meeting in almost continuous session since May 1940.

Bricker and Taft Facing Showdown

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—Ono's two potential Republican presidential candidates—Senator Robert A. Taft and Senator-elect John W. Bricker—pointed today toward a January decision on which of them will seek "favorable" support.

Taft told a reporter that he and Bricker—each of whom has bowed out of the other's way in two successive bids for the nomination—will sit down together soon and try to work out an agreement.

Bricker stepped aside in 1944 and Taft in 1944, when Bricker became the vice presidential nominee.

Another compact would leave the winner free to put on full steam in an effort to line up delegates for the 1948 GOP convention.

The efforts reportedly being made in this direction by supporters of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and the publicly announced intention of former Gov. Harold G. Stassen of Minnesota to seek the nomination apparently spurred the Ohioans toward a showdown.

Officials Have No Answer For Question About Sugar

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—Sugar-hungry American demanding to know why we ship our sugar abroad at a time like this received assurance from the agriculture department today.

We don't.

It is true, department officials said, that sugar leaving American refineries for foreign areas this year will total around 460,000 short tons. But, they explained, "This sugar was grown in Cuba, not here. It did not belong to the United States, but was part of the Cuban crop allocated to Canada, Great Britain, France and other shoring areas."

Officials said that arranging to have the sugar refined here produced a net loss to the government.

The agriculture department says much confusion has developed in regard to the Cuban sugar crop, mainly because this country has been buying the bulk of it since early in the war. In doing so, the United States did not buy the crop for itself alone, but as an international agent for all the countries which normally depend upon Cuba for part or all their sugar needs.

Since early in the war, the allied countries have been operating on a world-wide sugar-sharing plan. This was designed to keep a few countries from "hogging" the short world supply and

PROBE URGED OF RUSSIAN DARIEN EDICT

Democratic Senator Scores Soviet Ultimatum Ordering U. S. Navy Ship To Sail

SITUATION QUITE TENSE

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—A state department official said today the Russians acting within their legal rights in refusing admission of an American businessman and two newsmen to the Manchurian port of Dairen last Friday. The business and news correspondents were aboard a naval vessel which subsequently was ordered by the Soviets on 20 minutes notice—to leave Dairen.

Washington, Dec. 24—(P)—Senator Stewart (D-Tenn.), declaring "we've been entirely too easy" with Russia, today urged a thorough investigation into the "verbal ultimatum" which forced United States navy ship to leave Dairen.

Stewart referred to the edict which sent the vessel, on a routine courier mission, hurrying from the Manchurian port after receiving this warning from Russian military officers.

"Unless you leave within 20 minutes we will not be responsible for the consequences,"

By WILLIAM H. NEWTON (Representing the Combined Distributed by Associated Press)

Dairen, Manchuria, Dec. 20—(Delayed)—(P)—Soviet Russia, I learned today, intends to retain full control of the city of Dairen—gateway to Manchuria—and will keep her military forces there until after the peace treaty is signed with Japan.

This will be done under a technical definition of a clause in the Chinese-Russian pact, concerning Dairen, which says "in peacetime Dairen is not included in the sphere of efficacy of naval base regulations determined by agreement on Port Arthur of Aug. 14, 1945, and shall be subject to military supervision of control in this zone only in the case of war against Japan."

"In peacetime" in the catch. Technically, China and Russia still are at war with Japan under a peace treaty is signed.

Merry Christmas To All And To All a Good Night

Alas Santa Claus worked hard last night. You know it's no small task to get everything wrapped and packed ready for delivery to the scores of homes where the old boy pays visits. Games, oranges, apples, candy, nuts, toys, clothing and a myriad of other things go into the boxes that are especially picked for the boys and girls and the older folk whom Alas Santa remembers. But he had some good and tireless helpers. Girls in the business office of The Times-Mirror are Alas's right hands in the task and they work valiantly.

It has been a magnificent job that has been done. Thousands of articles large and small have been given to aid in the work and the checks and cash have just "sort of rolled in" from the generous folk of the city and county. "It's good to be alive" chuckled Alas Santa this morning, "and to feel that people of the community have such good hearts that beat so warmly for the unfortunate. And my little job is such a happy one that I just feel that everyone who had a part in it in any way must enjoy a feeling of warmth and pleasure. I want to thank each and every one who has aided me in any way and I want to thank the band of good fellows who will drive their cars thither and yon over the city and county distributing the boxes and parcels. They do a grand job and their help is surely appreciated. So in the words of Santa himself let me say "Merry Christmas to All and to All a Good Night!"

Alas Santa today appeals for a snow suit for a child who resides out in the county where snow suits are really needed. One suit size 4 would just fill the bill and would bring comfort to a kiddie and joy to his mother.

Up until the last minute Alas Santa received gifts. Mrs. Hulda Glad yesterday sent in an additional group of stuffed animals among them a little lamb that some young child will cuddle close to her heart. The Hepler Company also sent in toys. A check for $5 with some person who doesn't want his name published came in and F. E. Redding sent in a check for $5 while Mr. and Mrs. Roy Krebs also sent a five dollar check. And a telephone call this morning from a woman said that she was mailing a check although it was a little late.

Christmas Will Be Merry Day Over The City

Christmas in Warren will be a real holiday in every sense of the word. The city will be closed more tightly than ever before and not only will the stores observe the holiday but all taverns will be closed for the day. This announcement was made several days ago
following a meeting of the Hotel, Tavern and Club Association which said all bars would be closed.

Banks will suspend operations
as well as the stock market; all Federal, state and county offices will be closed tightly and business will be at a stand still. The post office force will rest as far as possible as the employees have set a record in handling of an immense volume of mail. Hotels are planning special menus for the day and expect to serve many in their dining rooms.

There will be no issue of The Times-Mirror and the employees will enjoy a day of rest and unite in extending to all wishes for a Merry Christmas.

However Christmas will be especially well observed in Warren homes and scores of guests will be entertained in homes while many will go from Warren to towns in the vicinity to spend the day.

State police have issued warnings asking all to drive carefully on the highways and to avert as far as possible accidents due to careless operation of motor cars.

Many Eligible For Payments Of Insurance

Library patrons will find much of interest in the new list of Memorial books recently added to the Warren Public Library shelves.

In this year, with its wealth of biographical material, Stefan Zweigs "Balzac" easily takes its place among the first ten. This important work was placed as a memorial to Mrs. Charles W. Es-jamine. Collectors will find the two books by W. B. Honey: "Dresden China" and "English Pottery and Porcelain" valuable; the first was placed in Memory of Mrs.
Kate Botchford and the other for Grace Allen Stone. Travel in South America is represented by C. P. Haskins' "Amazon", and Albert Franklin's "Educator",
both books in memory of O. A.
Pressel.

Hasley and Tower have written an excellent volume, "Homes of our Ancestors", which will be of aid to those who contemplate restoring old houses as well as to those who are interested in architectural material. This book carries the memorial plate to Mrs.
Charles Forsgren. "As We Were"
is a beautiful volume of pictures from the famous Bettmann Archives and was edited by Mellamy Partridge. It is a memorial to Delford U. Arird. A new book on an old craft is Baxter's "Jewelry Gem Cutting and Metalcraft", which will interest the craftsman and hobbyist, and was placed in memory of Claude A. Nichols.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

And the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary.

And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favored, the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou among women.

And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David; and he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be?

And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished, that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

(This story of the birth of Christ is from St. Luke, the excerpts being taken from Chapters I and II)

Gov. Edward Martin, suggesting an increased gasoline tax to finance road building, will find that the suggestion is just as popular as a mouse at an afternoon tea.

If the road program cannot all be taken care of next year, it might be arranged over a period of years and the tax escaped.

With members of Council and the finance committee at work on the budget for 1947, old John Q. Public is worrying over the possibility of a boost in taxes. Faced with some extraordinary expenses during the coming year, there is such a possibility.

Slush-covered sidewalks and gutters running inches deep with water failed to dampen the ardor of the last-minute shoppers who filled the business district Monday night.

Work of filling up the mill pond is finally under way. Such an area in the heart of the city should provide a fine parking spot which is so urgently needed. It will be an immense task, but a project worth while.

Carol singers on the streets have proven a beautiful addition to the many features of the Christmas season. Shut-ins especially derive great pleasure from a visit of the singers.

Scores of Warren folks can enjoy Christmas more than ordinarily due to their generous gifts to the Times-Mirror Santa Claus Fund. Thanks are extended to all who so heartily aided in this worthy task.

May the holiday bring you the peace of mind that is symbolized by the gleam of a burning candle. This is the sincere Christmas wish of the Warren Times-Mirror.

Washington Daybook

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Vegetarians among the fish family of Fred G. Orsinger, director of the fish and wildlife service's aquarium in the Commerce Department building, will get a special helping of spinach for Christmas.

Other fish, who Orsinger says hate spinach worse than our own small fry, will get special helpings of fried beef heart.

As for Ollie Orsinger, the jovial director's understanding but really long-suffering better half, she'll get "$5 for groceries and a special oiling of her vacuum cleaner and electric washing machine."

That's what Fred says, but of course he's kidding.

"Hey, what's the use of being serious, anyway?" Fred queries, his grey eyes twinkling. "Nobody wants a lot of stuffiness. The folks I know prefer just plain garden-variety nonsense."

Orsinger added that Ollie would probably up his weekly 50-cent allowance to a dollar for the holiday.

"We've been married 43 years," he said, "and Ollie has never been stingy yet."

SERIOUSLY, though, Orsinger has done a great deal to build up the aquarium. He loves his job and his fish family, and it is with deep regret he is forced by federal law to retire next July 10.

He will be 70 years old then. He doesn't look it. Stocky of build, energetic and full of humor, he has the appearance and vim of a man in his late forties or mid-fifties. His hair is cotton-white, if that is a sign of age.

"I've got some mileage left," he told me, "and I'm going to get out and use it."

He is thinking of going to Florida for a spell with Ollie. Their three sons are grown and can fend for themselves. After the elder Orsingers have a fling under the southern sun, Fred will put his mind to deciding what he'll do next.

HE HAS had three offers. Miami University on the Keys is about to open a new aquarium. They would like to have a man of Orsinger's experience take it over. Some people in Havana are steamed up about a "new, modern, wonderful gulf stream aquarium" they have spoken to Orsinger too.

Then Capt. William Young of Pass Christian, Miss., a shark fan for many years and author of a recent book called "Shark, Shark!" offered him a job to handle a new aquarium he's interested in setting up in his home town.

"It will be sort of a glorified Coney Island type of thing," said Orsinger. "But it would be very interesting."

Capt. Young has collected sharks for years and developed a way of making leather for shoes and so forth. He also developed a way of taking waste fish, dehydrating it and making it into feed and fertilizer.

First off, though, Orsinger is concerned with replenishing the fish and wild life aquarium. There are still a lot of fish he wants to get for the big glass tanks that draw hundreds to the commerce building weekly.

"I want everything to be in fine condition when I sign off from the job," he said.

BROADWAY

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — In this city of celebrities, host as it is to every sort of notable from the sidewalk sort such as Broadway Rose to the Waldorf-Astoria types of the Molotov-Brynes-Beverly persuasion, one little organization keeps a firmer finger on the transient habits of those bright names than any other single enterprise in the world.

This finger on the mercurial pulse of popularity does not concern itself with fires, floods, earthquakes, murders, births and deaths in the journalistic tradition, as a newspaper does. Its single concern is only how such catastrophes or happy incidents affect its listing of some 50,000 persons whose stature is such that they may be of instant interest to any of its subscribers.

This corporation is called Celebrity Service, an up-to-the-second source of salient facts and comprehensive biographical material about any and all public figures. Unlike some less spectacular published lists of notables, Celebrity Service keeps the names of the renowned dead in its files as well as those managing to remain alive in this turbulent era.

TWENTY-SEVEN U. S. Government departments subscribe to the service, according to its president, Earl Blackwell, a former Atlanta, Ga., lad who turned an idea into a buzzing business. British, French, Canadian and Swedish governments each pay $180 a year for the right to call Celebrity Service any time of the day or night and find out not only who's who, but who's where.

Blackwell, (whose partner is Ted Strong, formerly of Boston) notes that his service is available only to subscribers, and cites the fact that more than 1,000,000 calls have been handled in the last year, each a query about the whereabouts, availability, in some cases merely only the spelling of the celebrated citizens of virtually every nation on earth.

ON THE basis of such a furious, only widespread collection of requests, Blackwell has put together a list of the persons about whom the most information was requested in the last year, the million telephone calls showing that the following, in order, are the ones most asked about:

Ingrid Bergman, John Hershey, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sister Elizabeth Kenny, Joan Crawford, Laurence Olivier, "Doc" Blanchard and Glenn Davis of the Army football team, Bing Crosby, Molotov and Cardinal Spellman.

The annual Christmas party for patients at the Rouse Hospital will be given tomorrow evening by the Kiwanis club, when members of that organization will gather at the institution at Youngville for dinner and program during which every patient will be remembered with presents.

Firemen under the direction of Chief Douglas G. Kropf are today completing work on the repairing of toys for needy children of the borough. The toys are now being packed in preparation for distribution, starting tomorrow.

According to Postmaster J. K. Bell, a new record for the number of parcel post packages handled in the new post office building in one day was established Monday.

Mrs. J. H. West left Monday for Dennison, Ohio, where she will spend the holidays as the guest of her daughter and family, the Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Manton.

Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas everywhere!
Up the chimney, on the stair;
Listen to the joyful sound—
"Merry Christmas!" all around.
Here it comes and there it goes,
In the house and out of doors;
Such a boisterous hullabaloo—
What in the world can a person do
But join the jolly Christmas crew,
Made up of folks like me and you—
And holler—
"MERRY CHRISTMAS!"

Eagles Gave Kiddies Royal Time at Party

Warren Aerie of Eagles held its annual Christmas Party for the children under 12 years of age of the Aerie members. The affair was held in the big hall on the third floor which had been hand-somely decorated and arranged for the affair. The youngsters gathered at 2 p. m. and the fun was fast and furious until 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

A huge Christmas tree had been arranged and it was decorated in a pleasing manner with plenty of lights and ornaments. Santa Claus was on hand and distributed gifts, candy and nuts to the children who greeted his appearance with whoops of delight. There were 75 children present and following the distribution of gifts all were served ice cream and cake. The affair will long be remembered by the little folk who were guests of the Warren Lodge.

YOUNGSVILLE

Youngsville, Dec. 23—Friday evening very good programs were given in the Evangelical United Brethren, the Free Methodist and Methodist churches. In each of these there was a good attendance and all ages of the Sunday school had a part in the program and for most of the children there was a candy treat.

A special feature in the Methodist church school was the Old Testament story of the first Christmas in Bethlehem which was shown with beautiful shadow pictures by a group of intermediate girls under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Stillings. As the scene was thrown on the screen, appropriate Christmas carols were sung by a girls' chorus. There were also in this program as in the other Christmas programs held at the same hour, songs by the classes of the beginners, and primary groups, recitations and exercises of various classes. Other special features were a flute solo, "Star of the East" by Mary Ann Shurwin and a visit from Santa.

The younger children were also entertained Saturday afternoon by teachers with mothers as guests. There was a tree, games, gifts and refreshments were featured.

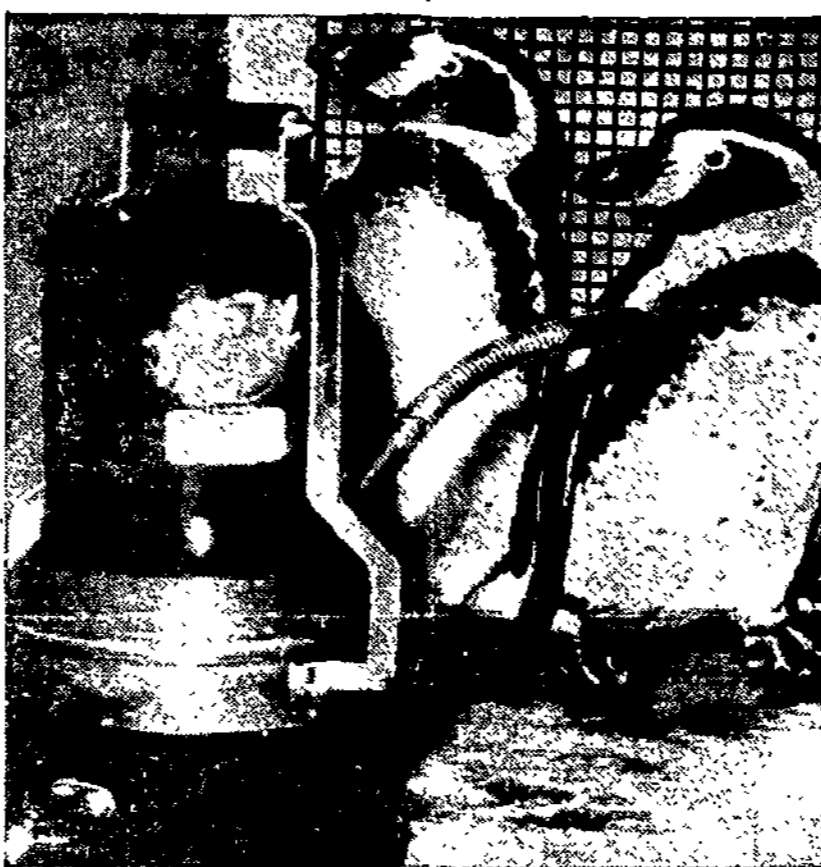

A lovely cantata, "Christmas Bells" by Edward Norman was given by the Methodist choir at 4 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 22, directed by Mrs. Laurel Whitmore accompanied by Miss Roberta Lodge, organist and Laurel Whitmore, pianist.

Soloists were: Soprano — Mrs. Thomas Wise, Mrs. John Knapp and Miss Barbara Knapp; altos — Mrs. Albert Hendrickson and Mrs. Laurel Whitmore; tenors — Rexford Meleen and Laurel Whitmore; bass — Frank Black.

A white gift was received at this program.

Miss Treva McKinney was the accompanist. Solos and special parts were taken by Mrs. Laura Thompson, Betty Brown, Mrs. Nina Haight, Walter Forsberg, Miss Norma Haight and Stewart Smith.

Attendance was very good at all of the programs. This Monday a very good Sunday school Christ-

IN NEW YORK

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have been taken nicely into Broadway's whirl without undue concern for the habits assigned to watch their royal nobs. No one bothers them much; even the daffy autograph fiends are a little awed and don't knock them about in quest of a signature as they will do at the drop of a hint that a Hollywood star is around.

Ginny Davis, daughter of Meyer Davis, the millionaire bandleader, quit the cost of "Call Me Mister" and now is singing at the smart Concord Club on the Champs Elysee in Paris. . . . Bob Hope's brother George has been offered a big pay envelope by pictures after his recent radio writing established that Bob isn't the only entertainerment hope in the Hope home.

TRYING out their new act in Buffalo's Town Casino, Olsen and Johnson pulled a timely gag by presenting each customer a lump of coal. . . . The daffy duo opens in Nicky Blair's Carnival after New Year's. . . . Eddie Bracken says he'll do a Broadway show after he winds up present commitments. . . . Milton Berle is working on a deal to present Maxie Rosenbloom and Benny Baker in a jazzed-up revival of "The Gorilla," with a flock of gags injected to bring it up to date, that is if the gags are up to date, which is problematical. . . . Mimi Beaulieu of the Metropolitan Opera is the latest Met lark to shift to musical comedy in "Chinese Nightingale," which will play London before trying Broadway.

Christmas stage show at Radio City Music Hall, "The Nativity," had seats reserved as far ahead as a year ago by so many thoughtful theatrical planners that it is almost impossible now to buy reserved seats for the presentation. . . . It seems a little sacrilegious that ticket scalpers should connive to get the precious movie house pasteboards, selling them for as high as $10 a pair.

CUTE coiffure paradox in front of the Met Hall: a Chinese girl and her American girl friend arm-in-arming it along the Avenue of the Americas—Sixth Avenue to you and me—the Yankee lass' hair upswept and lacquered into an Oriental knot while the Oriental lass sports a pageboy which would do Margaret Sullivan proud.

Hollywood-in-Gotham — a drowsy blonde walking her pooch along Park Avenue across from the Waldorf as I headed for home at seven ayem, her black and white striped pajamas showing brightly under her mink coat.

The building at 46th and Seventh Avenue with its statuettes of Marilyn Miller, Rosa Ponselle, Mary Pickford, Ethel Barrymore and similar feminine stars, unbeknownst to the young hopefuls who trudge by daily in search of fame. . . . The newsstand at 42nd Street near the Public Library features a sign which announces "Russian, Italian, French and Spanish periodicals." It's vendor speaks all the lingoes plus four more. . . . The elevator boys in the Park Central Hotel, all would-be entertainers. . . . When a new one is hired, the vets ask: "Sing, or Dance?"

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS

The business people who sponsored the decorations of our town for the Christmas season by putting in considerable money and a lot of hard work are now receiving many compliments for the fine effect given by the many 2 strings of lights across the streets.

They were also receiving co-operation by the town people who are decorating homes. To encourage this decoration the Business People's Association are offering prizes, $10.00, $5.00 and $3.00 for the best outside decorations and $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 for the best inside decoration.

Competent judges are being chosen and the judging will take place between Friday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

MISSIONARY SPEAKER

There will be a specially interesting meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service held in the Methodist church Friday afternoon, Jan. 3rd, when the newly elected officers will be installed with a consecration service.

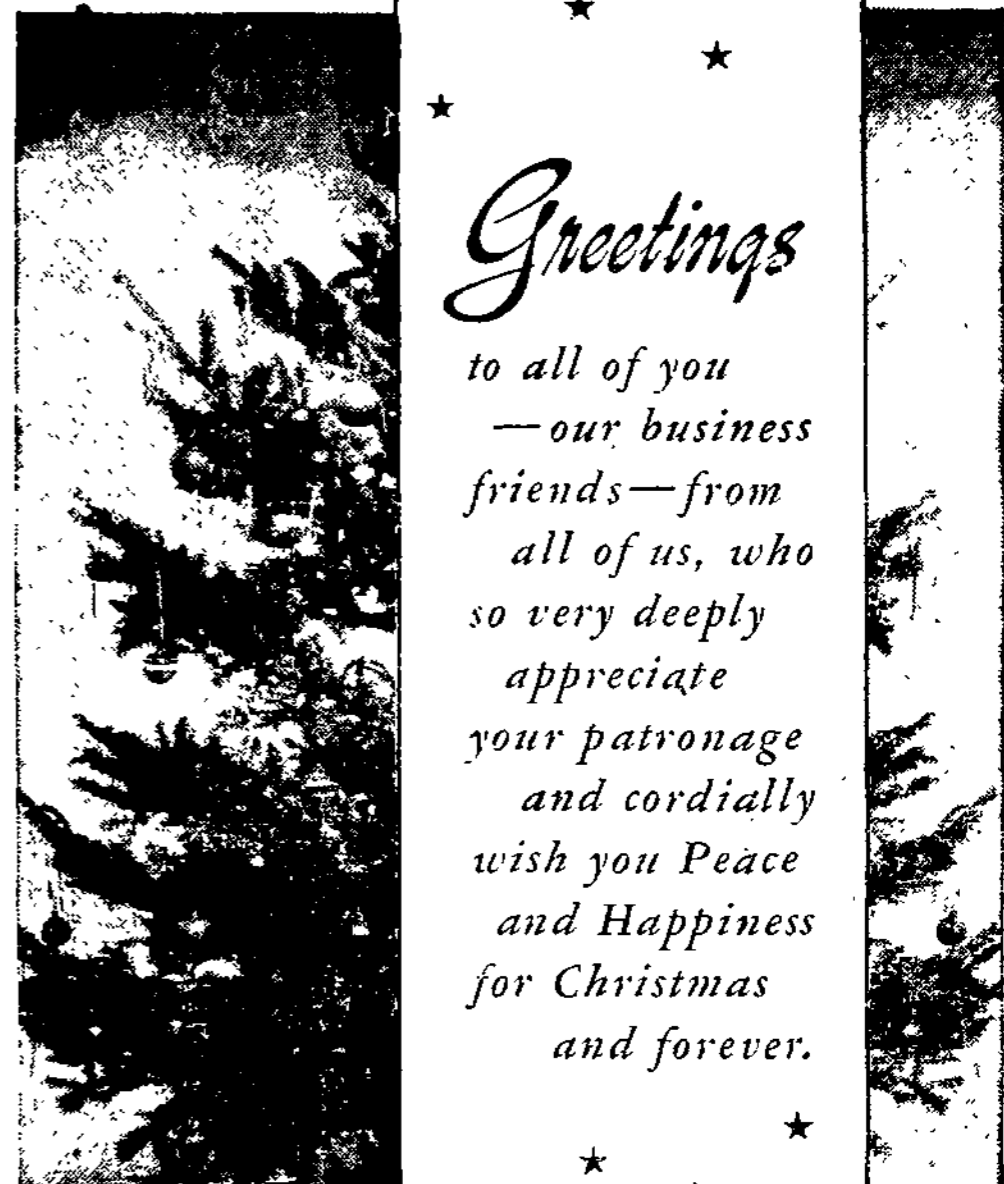

Miss Rella Wilson, returned missionary from India, will bring the message of the day.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Stina Smith of Mill street Youngsville, Sunday celebrated her 80th birthday with about twenty-five guests. Songs and stories of the many things of past days made a pleasant evening. The luncheon served by her daughter and grand-daughter included a prettily decorated birthday cake given by her eight great-grandchildren. Mrs. Smith received lovely gifts as well as hearty congratulations.

Audrey Johnson To Marry Kane Man

At a Christmas party given Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Esther Johnson, Parker street, formerly of Kane, the engagement of her daughter, Audrey, to Jack Daugherty, of Kane, was announced.

The news was announced in small messages attached to each guest's place card at the luncheon table, which was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. The centerpiece consisted of Santa Claus, with his sleigh, with the announcements placed in his pack.

Gifts were exchanged by those present: Ann Paup, Linnea Johnson, Linnea Tengstrand, Mrs. Don Paup, Mrs. Evan Carlson, Mrs. Eric Tengstrand, Kane; Mrs. Melbourne Karlson, Mrs. Johnson and Aubrey Johnson, Warren.

Miss Johnson was graduated from Kane High School with the Class of 1944, attended Bryant-Stratton Business Institute in Buffalo, and is now employed as secretary by the Miller shop.

Mr. Daugherty attended the Kane schools, served with the armed forces in the European theatre for two years and, upon receiving his discharge, has been employed by General Motors in Buffalo.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Western Wedding Of Interest Here

Announcement is made today that in Tacoma, Wash., at 6 p. m., Saturday, November 18, a double ring ceremony was performed to unite in marriage Miss Irene Parkhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brant, of Danbury, Iowa, and S/Sgt. Julius Stock, son of John Stock and the late Mrs. Rose Stock, of Pittsfield.

Captain David Barley, post chaplain at Madigan General Hospital, officiated at the rites before a white fireplace decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. Ivy and other greenery were at either side of cathedral tapers which burned in a candelabra. Mrs. Barley presented traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by Lester Hatch, the bride descended from a white stairway, which was decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums and other seasonal flowers. She wore a blue velvet street length dress, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline in a fitted bodice, and flared skirt. Her Juliet cap had matching veil and accessories were in the same shade. The traditional "something new" was a matching pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom. Her shoulder corsage was of American Beauty roses. Lt. Mary Costley, of Tacoma, was her maid of honor. She wore a blue ensemble, with matching accessories, and a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

M/Sgt. William Ghien, of Des Moines, Iowa, was best man.

A reception followed, when refreshments were served from a table decorated in blue and white, with crystal bowls of red carnations. Centering the table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with bridal figures in miniature.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, B. C., the bride traveling in a gray pin stripe suit with blue accessories.

Mrs. Stock is a graduate of Anthon High School, Anthon, Iowa, and prior to her marriage worked at Madigan General Hospital.

S/Sgt. Stock attended school in Pennsylvania and was employed by the National Forge at Irvine. He joined the army May 26, 1942. Following a 30-day furlough, which begins soon, he plans to reenlist.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

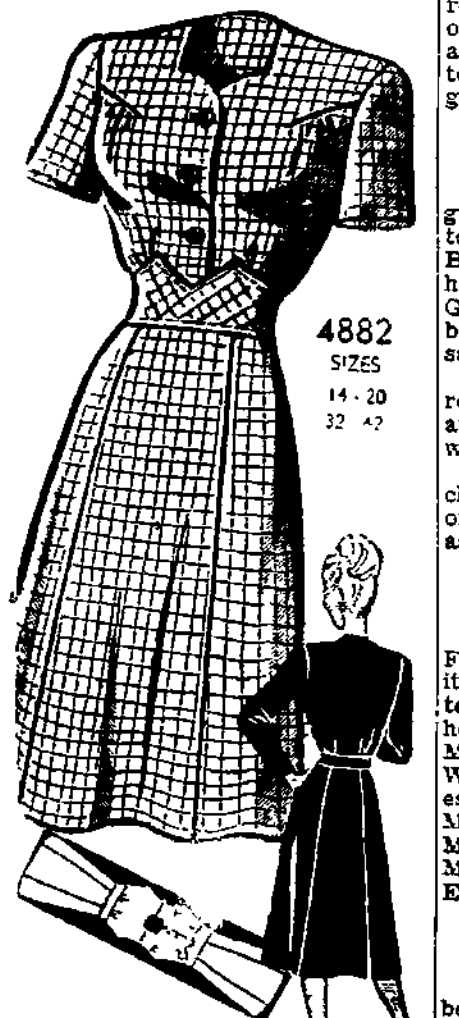

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent scanty passages with stinging and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Social Events

WBA MEMBERS HAVE MEETING AND PARTY
West Review, No. 4, WBA, held its regular meeting and Christmas party in S. F. of A. hall, opening with a delicious dinner served at six o'clock to 50 members and juniors. Tables were set in attractive Christmas decorations and colors.

Following the serving, these program numbers were enjoyed: Piano solo, "White Christmas"; Robert Johnson; "Christmas"; Nancy Arnold; piano solo, Katherine Arnold; "Santa Claus"; Carol Blythe; piano solo, Arlene Allen; vocal duet, Blanche and Jane McDonald; piano duet, "Silent Night"; Mrs. Martha Edwards and Jane McDonald; song and acrobatic dance, Martha Ann Edwards; songs, "Bicycle Built For Two" and "White Christmas". At the end of the program, Santa Claus arrived and each child received a gift and candy.

The meeting followed the program, after which adult members held their Christmas party and each was presented a gift from Santa's pack. Secret Sisters exchanged gifts and a pleasant time was spent in learning who those "sisters" had been in the past year. The remainder of the evening was spent socially.

REBEKAHS HAVING CHRISTMAS EVENTS

Lady Warren Rebekahs and their families will have a turkey supper at six o'clock Friday evening, with a business session at eight o'clock and a Christmas party following. A program, games and refreshments have been planned. On the entertainment committee are Maude Bright, Cleo Adolphson, Clara Putnam, Jennie Clark and Grace Spranger; games, Erma Eckerdt; refreshments, Doris Worley, Dorothy Gearhart, Cleo Adolphson and Vera Wood. All are reminded to bring a 25-cent gift for the grab bag.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR BAPTIST PASTOR

Following the Christmas program at the church on Sunday afternoon, choir members of First Baptist church journeyed to the home of their pastor, Rev. Milton G. Perry, to surprise him in celebration of his birthday anniversary.

A social time was enjoyed, with refreshments served from a table attractively decorated in keeping with the holiday season.

Ralph Owens, in a few well chosen words, presented the honored guest with a Masonic emblem as a memento from those present.

SECOND AUXILIARY PLANS CHRISTMAS TEA

The Second Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will hold its annual Christmas meeting and tea at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. H. C. Warren, 306 Market street. Assisting Mrs. Warren will be the following hostess committee: Mrs. E. E. Koebley, Mrs. T. L. Armstrong, Mrs. Mary Morrison, Miss Elizabeth Mills, Mrs. F. H. McCutchen and Mrs. G. E. Engelhard.

VFW POST-AUXILIARY ARRANGING PARTY

VFW post and auxiliary members, with their families, will hold their annual Christmas party in the post rooms at eight o'clock Thursday evening. The ladies are reminded to bring cookies for refreshments and the children are asked to come prepared with a song or recitation for the program.

Barlow - Cordner Rites Performed At Sugar Grove

Sugar Grove, Dec. 24—The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barlow was the scene of a lovely wedding at 1:30 p. m. Friday, December 20, when Ruth Naomi Cordner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cordner, Youngsville, became the bride of Wallace Barlow. Rev. Carleton Foss, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony before a fireplace in the living room, where candelabra, palms and white pompoms were banked as an attractive setting. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Neil Scott, pianist, played "I Love You Truly" and accompanied Rev. Foss to sing "Because."

Donald Cordner, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Cordner, Youngsville, were the attendants. The bride wore black accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses with a gray suit. Mrs. Cordner wore a cream colored wool frock, black accessories and corsage of pink and white roses. The bride's mother wore a black crepe dress with sequin trim and Mrs. Barlow wore black velvet, each with a corsage of bronze and yellow pompoms.

Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served in the dining room, which was made lovely with pink and white pompoms and table centered with an arrangement of pink and white dowered wedding cake topped with miniature bridal figures. Twenty-one guests of the immediate families from New York, Jamestown, Falconer, Youngsville and Sugar Grove were in attendance. Mrs. Carleton Foss and Mrs. Wilfred Jones, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, acted as aides to Mrs. Barlow.

The couple left for a few days trip to Pittsburgh and other places and will reside for the present at the Barlow home on Race street.

THE PIRES OF FAITH REACH HIGH THIS CHRISTMAS

Both were graduated from the Sugar Grove Joint Vocational School. The bride has been employed by Sylvania in Jamestown and the bridegroom, since returning from two and one-half years with the Marines in the Pacific and China, is now working for his father, local poultry and milk dealer.

Prior to her marriage, the bride-elect was honored with parties given by a group of Sylvania girls for a turkey dinner and personal shower; by the Agnes Home girls, Jamestown; Mrs. W. C. Barlow; and another group of Sylvania girls at Jamestown.

PAK Arranging Holiday Dance And Tea Party

PAK members and directors are rapidly completing plans for their Christmas dance which will be held at the Woman's Club on Saturday, December 28, also for the holiday tea which has been scheduled at First Methodist church on the following afternoon.

Outstanding features of the dance will be an orchestra composed of members of the original "Men About Town" and featuring Wayne Campbell, vocalist, Dye, Loucks, Svensen and Cannon were in the original Men About Town group which was so popular with high school boys and girls three or four years ago. The band will also include John Knapp and Dorlyn Baird and her accordion, which should assure an evening of excellent dancing.

The dance is for all members and their friends, as well as alumni and their guests. Dancing will be from nine until twelve, and the committee advises dress is optional.

The holiday tea will include a program of music provided by the PAK Choir, girls' sextet and boys' chorus, as well as several vocal and instrumental solos by both active and alumni members.

This program will be presented in the church parlors from four until six o'clock Sunday afternoon, after which refreshments will be served. All PAK members and their friends are cordially invited.

The Russians add preserves to their cup of tea.

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

Written for NEA Service
During my recent air trip around the country I had a meeting with the officers of the Cincinnati unit of the American Contract Bridge League, then went to the home of Charlton Wallace, Cincinnati bridge writer. We were discussing today's hand and Wallace said that a surprising number of players went down on it because they elected to play one of two finesses right. In other words, they took the spade finesse, and when it failed they took the diamond finesse, hoping to discard the losing spade on the ace of diamonds.

As Wallace pointed out, declarer could have made the contract easily with the following line of play. Win the first trick with the ace of hearts, cash the king of hearts and ruff a small heart with dummy's ten of clubs. Return to the North hand with a club, ruff another heart, then pick up the outstanding trumps. Lead a small spade, and if East does not put up the ten, finesse dummy's nine-spot. When West wins, he must lead back into the spade or diamond tenace.

With tenace positions such as the South hand holds, it is foolish for declarer to trust to a straight finesse. Certainly in more than half of such cases, you can get an end-play and avoid one or the other finesse.

Anthony and Hicks Falconer and Beck Rites Announced Rites December 10

Corydon, Dec. 24—Miss Paula Hicks, of Charlestown, W. Va., was united in marriage with Thom E. Anthony, of Corydon, on Monday evening, December 16, at 8 p. m., in a double ring ceremony performed in Holy Redeemer church, Warren.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crandall, of Cory, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caldwell, Lakewood, N. Y. The bride wore a green gabardine suit with black accessories, including winter-white hat with black veil. Her corsage was of Tullman roses.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party went to the Carver Hotel where a dinner was served in the Flame Room. They left later on a wedding trip to White Sulphur Springs and en route home visited friends in Pittsburgh.

The bridegroom attended the local and Kinzua schools, served overseas as a corporal in World War II, having been honorably discharged September last while patient in Miami Beach hospital for treatment of wounds. The newlyweds will make their home in Corydon for an indefinite time, after which Mr. Anthony plans taking up former work in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lander, Dec. 24—The marriage of Ethel Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vroman, 55 Forest avenue, Jahestown, N. Y., and Virgil Falconer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Falconer, Lander, took place at the Brooklyn Heights Methodist parsonage at 8 p. m. Tuesday evening, December 10. Rev. Grant L. Mottern performed the ceremony.

They were attended by the bridegroom's brother, Raymond Falconer, and Mrs. Falconer, the latter wearing a fuchsia suit with black accessories.

Mr. Falconer spent two years with the Seabees and is employed by the Crescent Tool Company in Jamestown. The newlyweds will reside for the present with his parents, where a reception was held following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson, Chanders Valley, were out of town guests.

Clarendon Couple Has Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Persing, of Clarendon, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on December 19 in a very pleasant manner, and were showered with gifts and cards from relatives and friends from Akron, Kent, Columbiana, Petersburg, New Middletown, Franklin, Meadville, Renovo, Lock Haven, Warren and Clarendon.

In the evening, Mrs. Persing was the honored guest at a Christmas dinner party given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Clarendon Evangelical and United Brethren church. Mrs. Carrie Armagost presented her with a lovely blanket in remembrance of the occasion, and all the ladies joined in wishing her and her husband many more such happy anniversaries.

Merry Christmas
TO ALL OUR FRIENDS

Styles change, methods change, but Christmas—never! Beneath it all is the same old love of man for his folks and his neighbors, the same old dream of the day when peace and good will encompass all the earth.

So now in that changeless season of Christmas we greet our friends and neighbors, as so often before, with that timeworn message of cheer and good fellowship, MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Hal Boyle Writes Wide Open Letter To Dear Santa Claus

By HAL BOYLE
New York, Dec. 24 (AP)—
Dear Santa Claus,
Yes, there is a Virginia.
She believes in you. So do I.
You don't think I throw away these five-cent airmail stamps on a myth do you?
But if your best friends won't tell you, I will, old-timer. Get wise to yourself. Modernize. Shave off those unsanitary old whiskers.
Climb out of that red flannel suit and buy yourself some dinner clothes. And quit whipping those reindeer. The S.P.C.A. doesn't like
it. Buy yourself a supersonic jet chariot.

Most of all, get out of the peppermint candy business. You still have the kids sewed up, but you're sure losing out with the grownups. You've got to take inventory and streamline your stock.

Give 'em something new for a change. For example, here's a gift list that will take you out of the kiddie car class, and win you more fans than Frank Sinatra: Mahandas K. Gandhi—a pin-striped zoot suit.
Mother Macfree—a retired Irish cop with a good pension.
John L. Lewis—an oil burning eyebrow warmer.
The three blind mice—a seeing eye cat.
Fred Allen—a portrait of Jack Benny.
Jack Benny—a portrait of Fred Allen.
Ingrid Bergman—My telephone number—Gramercy 7-8959.

The man with the hoe—a tractor.
The man in the iron mask—a can of metal polish.
The man in the moon—a new excursion.
Ladies in waiting—What they're waiting for—men.
Lana Turner—a suit of armor
(no more sweaters, please).
Tommy Manville—a commu-
tation ticket to Reno.
Hirohito—a copy of "Twilight of the Gods."
Doug MacArthur—a press pass
and a new roll of gold braid.
Bing Crosby—a race horse that runs on all four legs.
Walter Winchell—a door with two keyholes.
Our war veterans—Anything in the world they need.
Dr. James B. Cnant—a toy
chemical set.
The National Association of Manufacturers—an erector set.
Henry Ford—a new car.
Henry Kaiser—Any car.
Milton Berle—a new edition of Joe Miller (he knows all the old ones).
The old lady who lived in a shoe
—a shoe horn.
Hollywood—Criticism.
The radio—Criticism.
My wife—Patience.
My landlord (he's throwing me out)—A hair shirt.
A new landlord—Me! Me! Me!
Harry Truman—Earmuffs.
Joe Louis—Some competition.
Joe Stalin—Ditto.
Winston Churchill—an iron
curtain-pull.
The high cost of living—a

Stamp News

GEN. WLADYSLAW ANDERS' Polish Army, which stayed in Italy after the war and thereby became a topic of international dispute, has added another set of stamps to those it issued previously this year. The new issue will have special appeal to collectors of stamps honoring the late President Roosevelt.

Now in England, where its members are enrolled in a resettlement corps sponsored by the British, the Polish group overprinted in October five of its previous issues with the words "Honor the Four Freedoms" and the signature
"Franklin D. Roosevelt." The overprint appears in English on 15 and 50-centaw values, in French on an 80-c denomination and in Polish on 30 and 60-c values. The design of the 80-c stamp features an outline map of Italy with a Polish eagle marking the location of Barletta Trani, where General Anders' troops were quartered until recently.

The Poles, known as the Polish
Second Corps, fought in North Africa, at Tobruk and captured the Monte Cassino Abbey during their months of action in Italy.
Their refusal to return to Poland
because, they said, it was Communist-dominated resulted in the Warsaw government's depriving Gen. Anders and his officers of Polish citizenship. As recently as
Nov. 25 Soviet Union delegate Valentin I. Teplovich charged in a United Nations meeting that Anders' group was conducting a propaganda campaign against reparation and that it threatened the peace.

KING GEORGE VI of Great Britain will be an exhibitor at the Centenary International Philatelic Exhibition in New York City next May 17-23. Alfred
F. Lichtenstein, honorary chairman of the exhibition committee, recently spent a day at Buckingham Palace helping the King and Sir John Wilson, keeper of the royal stamp collection, select album pages to be sent to the exhibition.

The royal exhibit will include rare essays and proofs showing how the first postage stamp originated, Britain's famous Penny Black of 1840, the two penny blue,
the penny red and the Mulready envelope.

RUSSIA'S latest stamp issue consists of five stamps calling attention to its current five-year plan and listing production quotas for agriculture and the oil, coal and steel industries. The stamps bear inscriptions which urge Russia's citizens to "give the country every year 127,000,000 tons of grain, 60,000,000 tons of oil, 500, 000,000 tons of coal, 80,000,000 tons of steel and 50,000,000 tons of iron. Scenes typical of each industry appear on the various stamps.

INCREASINGLY important in international diplomacy as a result of attention now centering on the Middle and Near East is the Arab League, composed of Arab states. Egypt has focused philatelic interest on the League by issuing seven stamps to mark the Arab League Congress held in Egypt last May 28.

Rulers of the seven Arab states are pictured on the stamps each appearing in a medallion at the left. At the right of the special delivery size stamp is King Farouk's palace at Ichna, which the conference was held. Rulers portrayed are: King Farouk of Egypt on a one-millimes green;
King Imam Yenia of Yemen, 2-m sepia; President Bechara el Khouri of Lebanon, 3-m deep blue; King Abdel Aziz Al-Saud of Nejd, 4-m orange brown; King Faisal II of Iraq, 5-m maroon; King Abdullah Ibn Hussein of Trans-Jordan, 16-m gray, and President Shukri el Kaouty of Syria, 15-m purple.

A FOUR-STAMP souvenir sheet has been turned out by El Salvador to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the granting of a charter by King Charles I of Spain to the city of San Salvador,
now the capital of the South American republic.

All are airmail stamps. A 40-centavos brown pictures Charles I in armor and astride a black horse; 60-c carmine, portrait of Juan Manuel Rodriguez, mayor of San Salvador in 1546; 1-colon green, arms of the city, and 2-colons blue, flag of the city.

TWO new portrait stamps from Greece picture former Premier Panagis Kaldaris and mark the 10th anniversary of his death in 1938. Denominations are 250 and 500 drachmas.

The wide range of ages and occupations of stamp collectors is reflected by new applications for membership in the American Air Mail Society. Eighteen applicants listed in the November issue of the Society's Airpost Journal range in age from 15 to 61 and include non-occupations as student, banker, poultryman, pharmacist, naval officer, construction engineer and housewife.

Baker's Cleaners and Times-Mirror Win In City League

The Town Tavern, though said to be outclassed and were predicted to have no chance with Baker's Cleaners last night in the City League, put up a battle that had fans gasping. The Taverns held Baker's to a 36-36 count at the end of the third quarter but their break up in the final period because of the wonderful board work of big Jim Eagan. The Taverns were unable to score a point in the final minutes while Baker's tied seven to win 43-36.

Christmas Traffic

This Christmas will be the busiest ever. Certainly it will be the busiest for "Long Distance." We expect an avalanche of out-of-town calls . . . and "Christmas calls" are important calls to everybody. But if everyone waits till Christmas Eve, there are bound to be many delays. Some calls, particularly to distant points, will not get through at all. So start your "Christmas calling" early. We thought you'd like to know the facts. Thank you . . . and Happy Holidays!

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Listeners At One Can Hear Radio Station

Announcement was made this morning that Station WNAE will be given another equipment and power test starting about 1 a. m. Christmas morning. During the test a short Christmas program will be broadcast and all who desire to do so may tune in at 1310 on their dial and pick it up.

Engineer Foss, of Washington, D. C., who has been in the city conducting tests, etc., has returned to Washington, D. C., with all reports, etc., and will present them before the Federal Communications Bureau and it is hoped to get an O. K. to start programs at once.

Reports of reception from the Warren station are coming in from Newark, N. J., and downtown Buffalo both report having picked up the station during the tests made.

The frequency tests picked up on Long Island show the frequency assigned the station is correct at 1310.

Arrangements are being made to broadcast the Cotton Bowl Game on New Year's day over the Mutual Broadcasting facilities from the Warren station if the green sign is received before that time.

Change Made In Tourney Starting Date

Due to the small number of registrants for tournament play at the YMCA, scheduled to keep boys busy over the holidays, the starting date has been changed from December 24 to December 27. This will give those boys who haven't signed up a chance to still enter competition.

There can be no tournament unless there are at least 12 entrants for each tournament, so all boys which are interested are urged to sign up at the "Y" desk.

There will be competition for each age group in the boys' division and prizes for all winners. Play will get underway Friday and continue no later than Friday January 3.

The tournaments will be in ping-pong, pocket billiards, checkers, and quilts.

United Nations delegates and staff consume between 30,000 and 35,000 meals daily at their Long Island headquarters.

Home for the Holidays

Doris Evan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evan, arrived home Saturday morning from New York to spend the holidays with her family.

Harold L. Brown, 111 Center street, is home from Alfred University, Alfred, N. Y., to spend the holidays.

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Betts, 114 Fourth avenue, are their two sons, Kenneth, who is attending University of Alabama, and Robert, student at Catholic University in Washington.

Blanche Baker and George Weber, of Buffalo, N. Y., are the holiday guests of Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy B. Campbell, West Fifth avenue.

Harry Conarro, Jr., student at Hill School, Pottstown, is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Conarro, Fifth avenue.

GREEK CATHOLICS CELEBRATE JAN. 7

Although families in the Pittsburgh district of Greek Catholic and Russian Orthodox faith have transferred their observance of Christmas this year to Dec. 25, a spokesman for the Greek Catholic Church of the Nativity in Erie said today that the change would not affect families of the religion here.

The Greek Catholic Christmas observance is traditionally held on the Julian calendar date of Jan. 7. "We will observe Christmas on Jan. 7 as usual," the church spokesman said when asked if a change of dates would be forthcoming here.

Obituary

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

FRED T. SANDBLADE

Fred T. Sandblade, formerly of Warren but for many years a resident of Steubenville, O., died suddenly in that city on Sunday afternoon. He was associated with the Ohio Valley Clay Company in that city for 30 years.

Besides his wife, Marian F. Sandblade, he is survived by one sister, Florence C. Sandblade, and one brother, Henry J. Sandblade, both of Warren.

Services in his memory will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Harold Knappenberger, pastor of Grace Methodist church. Interment will be made in the family lot in Oakland cemetery.

CAROLINE ROBERTS

Funeral services were held this morning at 10:30 for Mrs. Caroline Roberts who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bell, in Cincinnati. Interment was made in Oakland with the following bearers: Charles Greenlund, Harold Blair, Lester Blair and B. S. Knabenshue.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell accompanied the body to Warren.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, during our recent bereavement.

Former Warren Girl Finds Life In E. T. O. Colony In Germany Quite Interesting

Written for the Times-Mirror By Ruth Maistre, Bavarian Press Camp, Munich

Munich—The Colonel's wife poured another cup of tea and then said without emotion but with an air of complete finality:

"There isn't a happy marriage in the E.T.O."

She spoke to the wives of a major and a captain.

All three wives of American officers have been in Europe quite some time.

Only a short time ago, twenty-six American women in the dependents community of Munich came to the colonel's wife in desperation. They said they were so unhappy they wanted to go home.

Why? It's an old story... misunderstandings with their husbands after long separations... one household nuisance after another trying to get scarce things together to make a home function.

These three women were quite frank. The colonel's wife only asked her name be withheld because of her husband's high ranking position. The others: Mrs. Jane Christoph of Columbus, Ga. and Mrs. Ann Hoxey of Springfield, Ill., saw no objection of airing the problems for the sake of all the persons involved.

Said the colonel's wife: "I think the men overseas were too long alone. So our only purpose in coming over here was to make a home for our husbands. But German girls will not let the men alone."

Mrs. Hoxey commented: "We are too independent, perhaps. We are used to being worshipped and spoiled by our men. The German girls entertain them and make them feel that everything they do is prima."

She is reminded of this by daily watching her maid. She calls her "Zombie" because she is so devoted to work that she refuses to let anyone else, especially men, do any work.

Most of those who complained to the colonel's wife concentrated their fire on frauleins. She told them:

"We want to be with our husbands after having trembled for their lives for so many years. In the Germans think American men are good fighters, oh brother. They do not know us. We will stay here and fight and fight and fight. We can face the music. We are born fighters."

So much for the frauleins. Another vexing situation is caused by the fact that American women for years have not found it necessary to "scrounge." In bombed out Germany, you just can't order cutlery, a set of dishes, kitchen utensils, gardening equipment, and so forth.

You take what you can get from the Army. Germans were supposed to leave their things in houses that were requisitioned for dependents. But they didn't. And they get away with it.

So households are short of the things a housewife needs. What happens next? Germans come back and try to sell to the wives these very things—not for marks but for cigarettes and chocolate, or food.

The women are forbidden to do such trading. They must buy for marks only. That is well nigh impossible.

At we talked, a German came to this house and offered fine glassware for PX supplies. That goes on daily.

Comes the evening and the wives would like to share with their husbands those little worries. But the husbands spoiled by the German woman's "I'll take care of everything" attitude are reluctant to listen. This creates antagonism.

The wives want to relax, the husbands want to be entertained. He goes where he finds his entertainment—frauleins—and she is staying at home.

Should a husband not be interested in a story like this one?

A German instructor came in our house to teach my two little boys how to speak German," one said. "Do you know who is Christ? This German asked by boys and gave them at the same time this answer: 'Christ is a son of a Jewish mother and a Roman soldier. Therefore he cannot be divine and why then should we pray to him?'"

"Although I threw the German out of my house immediately, my younger boy refuses to this day to take up his prayers."

"She gave this as a typical problem, one of the various kind that come up from time to time."

Do any of these women see the solution?

As to frauleins, the wives feel they can't appeal to higher officers. All men stick together, they said.

One said that they have to sweat it out, be patient and smart and with finesse win back their position.

Another one has decided though that it is a losing battle. "I'm one American woman who is getting a divorce after coming to Germany," said Mrs. Walter Bowman, of New Orleans, wife of a Third Army major.

I have been married 10 years, have a small daughter aged five. Before the war my husband and I shared a completely happy marriage. We were the best companions. We found happiness in simple things, a walk through the fall woods of Vermont, an afternoon of skiing, reading together at night.

"I think I understand what happened. Back home he was a swell guy. In Europe he lived like a duke. European girls, man hungry, chased him like mad. They wrote him passionate letters, they told him he was the most wonderful man they ever had met. He came to believe it."

"My husband speaks French indifferently, German badly. So he isn't critical of a girl's conversation; he just feels proud of himself if he understands her at all. He is forty-five. Young girls back home don't give him a tumble. So with his young fraulein he gains the sensation of recapturing his youth."

"He got ET fever and he'll never be the same again."

Really is it like that all over the place?

When you enter the nice cottage where Mrs. Winifred Cray Valens of Warren, Pa. is cooking lunch for her baby son and her husband, a correspondent, the atmosphere is different.

"We never had as large a place as this one and it is a tremendously interesting experience for me to be over here," she said.

Asked about the problem of the German girls, she said smiling: "This has never been a problem for me. I can think of two cases of German girls I have met who have been good companions and interesting to both my husband and myself. The others—a German girl is much easier to get than an

IN THE MATTER OF ABANDONMENT OF WOLF RUN ROAD, CORYDON TOWNSHIP, MCKEAN COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

In The Court of Quarter Sessions of McKean County, Penna.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Act of May 8, 1934, P. L. 645, Section 1, a petition has been presented to the Court of Quarter Sessions of McKean County, Pennsylvania, praying that a certain road in Corydon Township, McKean County, Pennsylvania, commonly known as the Wolf Run Road, be abandoned and declared vacated for the reason that the said road is useless. This said road is more fully described as follows:

BEGINNING at the head of Wolf Run where Chandler Hollow Road intersects old road near camp built on what was known as the Abbey Lot; from said point thence north 25° west 300 feet; thence north 70° west 200 feet; thence north 55° west 600 feet; thence north 60° west 750 feet; thence west 400 feet; thence south 85° west 500 feet; thence south 85° west 400 feet; thence north 75° west 250 feet; thence north 50° west 500 feet; thence north 20° west 960 feet to the New York State Line. Total amount of the New York State Line from the intersection of Chandler Hollow Road is 5060 feet.

A rule to show cause why the said road should not be vacated has been granted the Petitioners and a hearing will be held upon the said rule on January 28, 1947, at 10 A. M., in Court Room No. 2 at Smethport, Pennsylvania at which time all persons interested may appear and be heard.

American girl. A German girl you can have with a candy bar. An American girl it takes an effort.

"I have been here before and speak German. So I am interested in the German people's problem. Of course, I too lack curtains and such things but I realize you can't take all those things away from the Germans. There were some Germans who suffered, too, under Hitler."

"Living in an American colony means you get to know those people quicker than you do when you move into a new town back home. Here, they are more willing to share their ideas and their problems with you."

"And," she added with a grin, "you find out too how selfish they can be."

There are 8000 American wives and children now in the E.T.O.

There are at least that many German girls trying to get to the United States. May be round trip tickets should be purchased.

Joy to the World
Christmas

• Christmas is not all tinsel and tissue or colored lights and merriment. It has a deeper significance, rooted in the long gone past, which sets it high above all other holidays of the year.

• It is our hope that this blessed season will bring to your home not only the festive joys of Yuletide but that deep inner peace which is essentially a part of Christmas.
